Creative idea

Elevating your journey

'Elevating your journey' encapsulates the concept of going beyond ordinary travel experiences and reaching new heights of delight and fulfilment.

By focusing on elevated experiences, members can expect personalized services and an array of exclusive privileges that transform their travel into a remarkable, unforgettable adventure.

Whether it's through luxurious amenities, upgraded seating options, curated entertainment, or bespoke concierge services, the idea of 'elevating your journey' aims to create a sense of excitement, anticipation, and unparalleled satisfaction for every member. It signifies a dedication to surpassing expectations and ensuring that each step of the journey is an extraordinary and memorable experience.

Writing principles

Make your communications easy to read

We use simple sentences and a language that is easy to understand.

Be sensitive to culture

It is important to be sensitive to the faith and values of the Islamic culture.

Words that reference alcohol or other activities that fall in the adult domain are to be strictly avoided.

Spelling and punctuation

We use the American English dictionary as a guide for our spelling and punctuation.

Some examples of this are as follows.

- Use Organize instead of Organise
- Use Canceled instead of Cancelled
- Use Labor instead of Labour
- Use Color instead of Colour
- Use Center instead of Centre
- Use Program instead of Programme
- Use Catalog instead of Catalogue
- Use License instead of Licence

Visual identity

Logo

Latin logo

Our brand and everything we stand for, is represented by a bold and unique logo.

This is one of the most distinctively recognizable assets of our brand.

Typographically, the logo uses distinctive elements that makes it modern, digital and contemporary.

This logo is our primary option and should appear in most communications. The logo should appear on a white background color which ensures sufficient contrast and full legibility at all times.

Always use the approved master artwork.

Stacked version

Horizontal version

Arabic logo

An Arabic version of the logo is created to be used in local markets or targeted communications.

The logo lock-up should appear in green or white. Ensure sufficient contrast and full legibility at all times.

Always use the approved master artwork.

Stacked version

Horizontal version

Color use

For single color documents and special finishes in production, you can use the negative or positive logos.

These logos should only be used where color might be compromised, for example internal communications of a serious nature, or VIP gifts and on surfaces such as metals and plastics.

Always use the approved master artwork.

Negative

Clear space

An area of clear space has been defined to protect the integrity of the Saudia marks. This space should remain free of any elements such as text, graphics, imagery and other logos.

The clear space shown is only a minimum and can be increased if necessary.

The lock-up is always protected by clear space proportional to the height of the Saudia Insignia (25%).

Horizontal version

Stacked version

Minimum size

A minimum size has also been established for the lock-ups to ensure quality in reproduction and the legibility of the elements. The marks are always measured by the width of the Saudia Insignia.

Please refer to the sizes shown on this page for each of the marks minimum size.

Examples shown here are actual size, when this document is printed at it's 100% scale.

Partnership lock-up

In order to create balance, the partner brand logo is positioned proportionally to the elements in the Saudia Al Fursan logo.

The logos are separated by a keyline positioned using twice the space of the distance between the Saudia Insignia and wordmark. In turn the partner brand logo is positioned the same distance away from the keyline.

Hierarchy within the partnership will determine whether the Saudia Al Fursan logo comes first or second.

Global partnerships

Local partnerships

x = The space between the Saudia Insignia and the wordmark

Don'ts

To ensure brand recognition and consistency in communications our logo must not be changed from the lock-ups outlined in this document.

This page shows a few examples of misuse of our logo. Take care to follow the rules that have been set.

Don't change the color or use gradients.

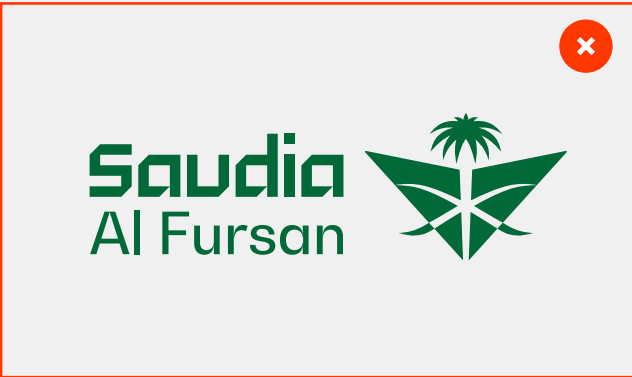

Don't apply drop shadows.

Don't change the composition.

Don't rotate it.

Don't flip it.

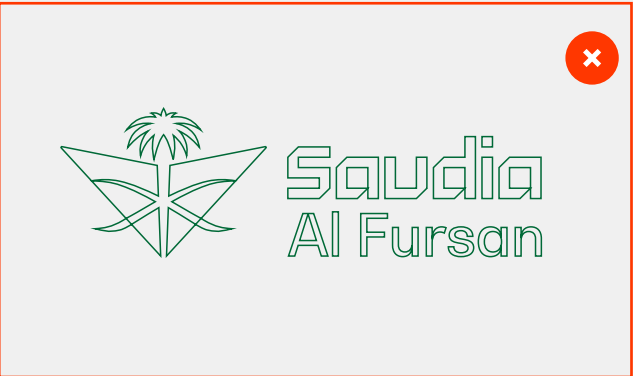

Don't distort it.

Don't change the typography.

Don't use low-contrast backgrounds.

Don't add strokes.

Color

Color palette

Saudia Al Fursan uses the colors that represent the Kingdom: Royal Green, Palm Green and Emerald.

The incorporation of Silver and Gold into the color palette enhances the brand's sense of exclusivity and premium status, while also effectively distinguishing between membership tiers.

A deliberate and generous use of white gives a spacious and contemporary feel to our communications.

Color usage

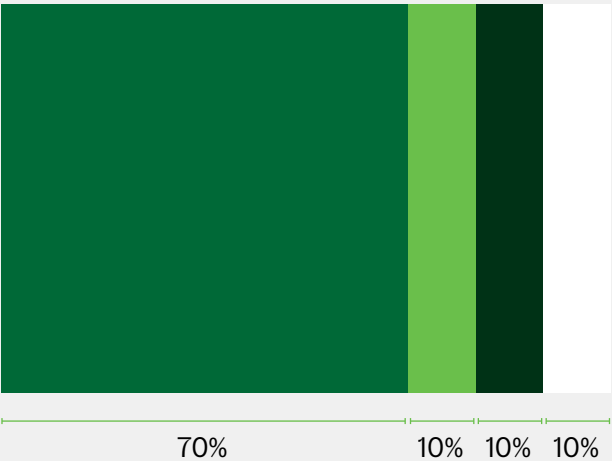

To differentiate between the three membership tiers of the Al Fursan brand, we utilize distinct color schemes: the Green tier features Royal Green, Palm Green, Emerald, and White; the Silver tier exudes a premium aesthetic with Silver and White hues; and the Gold membership tier radiates luxury through the use of Gold and Sand colors.

Photography

Overview

The photography centers around inclusivity, showcasing the diverse range of loyal Al Fursan members, capturing our customers enriched travel experiences, highlighting the various membership benefits such as exclusive discounts, lounge access, flight upgrades, and other partnership perks, with a primary focus on depicting individuals and their personal journey.

The photography art direction emphasizes natural lighting and employs hues that harmonize with the colors associated with each tier, such as silver and gold, to create an organic and immersive visual experience that complements the distinctiveness of each membership level.

Principles

To effectively convey the enriched journeys of our members and the benefits of Al Fursan, our imagery should vividly portray the experiences encountered, and the people involved, adhering to our key photographic principles:

- Natural, soothing colors
- Clear and focused composition
- An overall sense of luxury

Our imagery should also be inclusive and minimal to ensure a more sophisticated look and feel.

Natural, soothing colors

Use hues found in nature that evoke a sense of tranquility and harmony. These colors can include soft earth tones like gentle greens, serene blues, warm browns, and subtle grays.

Clear and focused composition

Use visually compelling photographs with well-defined subject placement, balanced elements, and precise attention to detail, resulting in impactful and captivating imagery.

Overall sense of luxury

Attention to refined details, elegant styling, and the use of rich textures and opulent elements, elevating the visual experience to evoke a feeling of indulgence and sophistication.

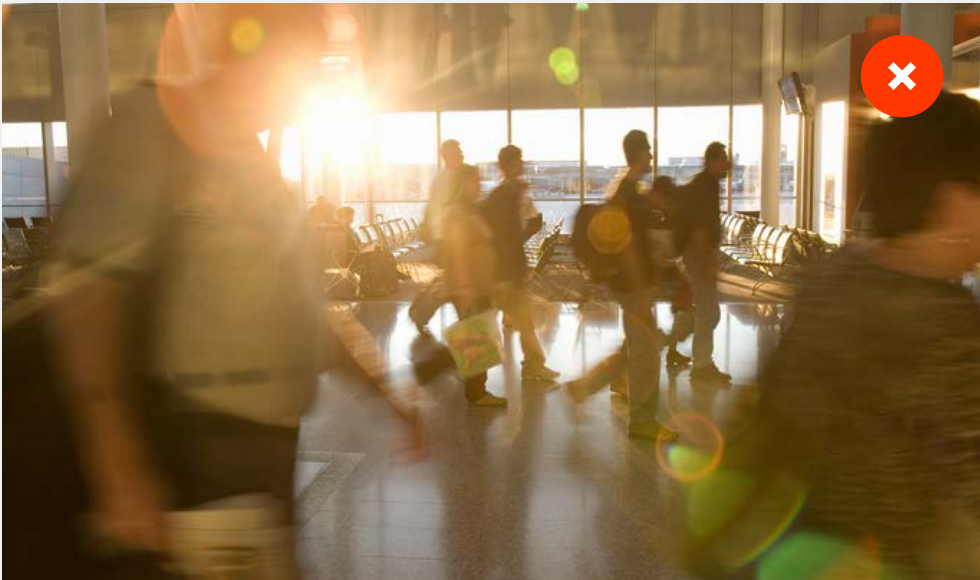

Don'ts

Ensure clear focus with well-defined subject placement resulting in a impactful and captivating imagery.

Images should align with the brand's color palette, featuring natural tones inspired by the different membership tier colors. Avoid oversaturated images and do not add any effects or artificial lighting.

Capture authentic moments by avoiding staged or posed shots of individuals, opting instead for candid photography that candidly portrays genuine emotions, interactions, and experiences.

Infuse life and narrative into your visuals by incorporating human presence into the photography, allowing for a relatable and engaging portrayal of experiences, interactions, and the overall essence of the brand.

Don't loose focus by showing overcrowded spaces.

Don't apply any photographic effects or artificial lighting.

Don't show people posing.

Don't use photography without people.

Our graphic assets

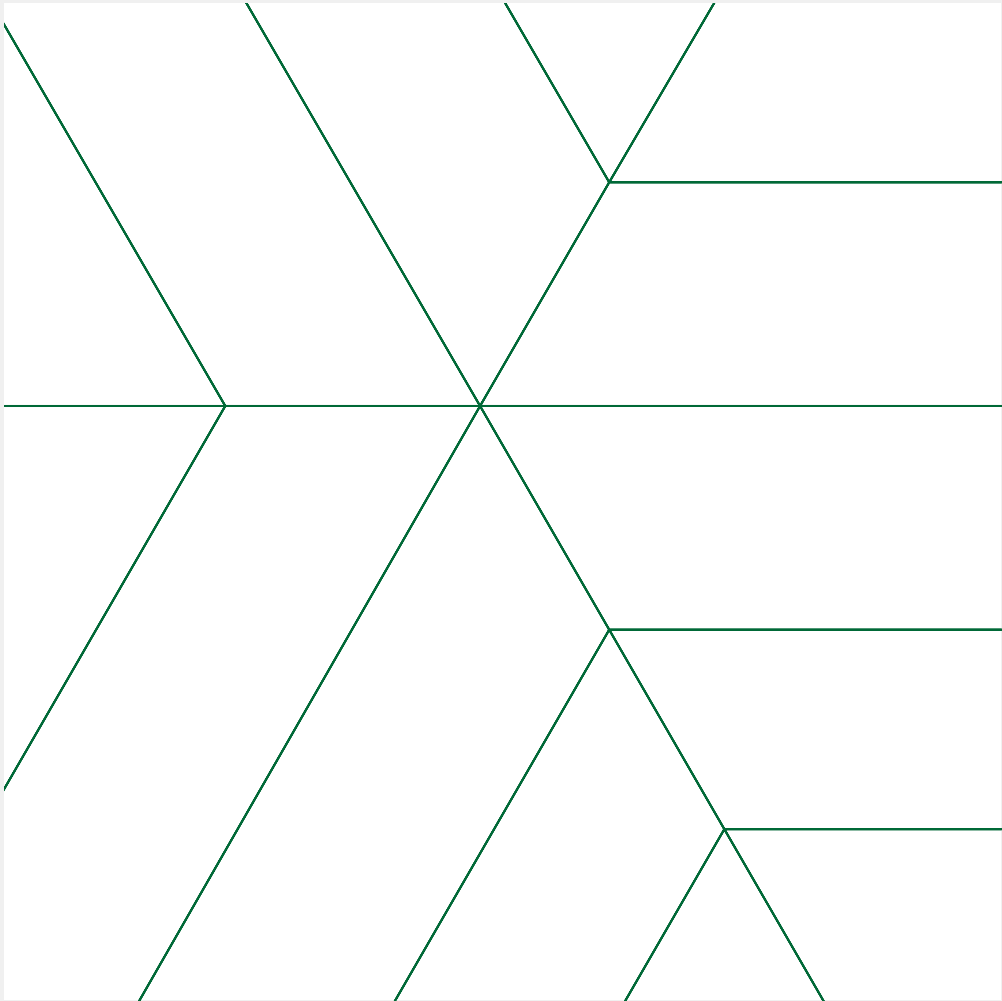

Pattern of hospitality

Our pattern has a story to tell, that’s why we use it purposefully to create meaningful brand moments.

The hospitality pattern is employed to create a sense of warmth, comfort, and familiarity in our designs, reflecting the hospitality values of welcoming and nurturing guests, and conveying a positive and inviting atmosphere that resonates with our members.

Keyline pattern

We use the keyline pattern of hospitality for a more sophisticated look and feel.

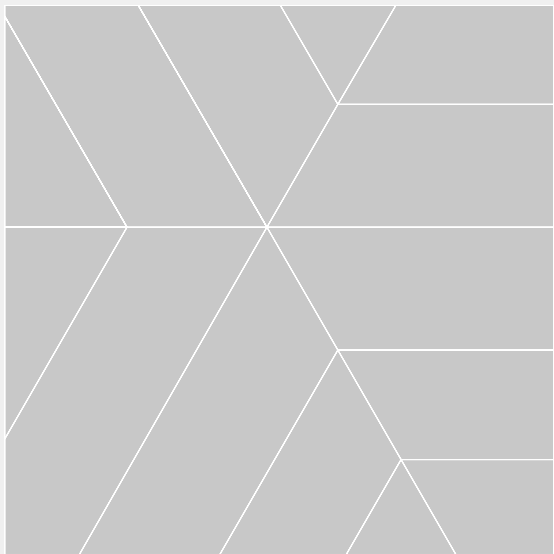

Keyline pattern

Tier system patterns

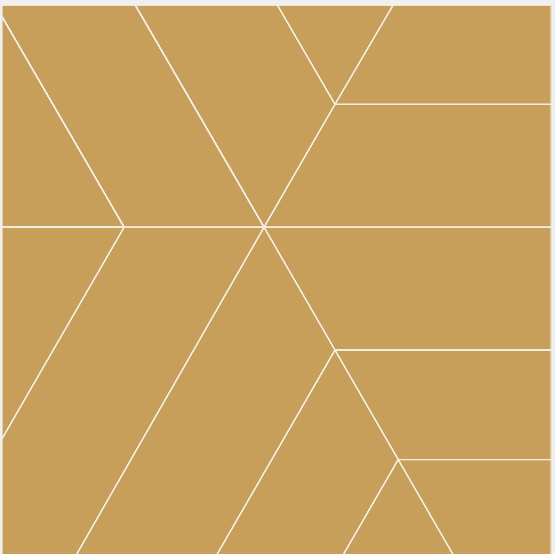

To establish distinct tiers, we employ varying color patterns: the Green tier features a minimal pattern with green and white tones, the Silver tier adopts a keyline pattern in silver and white for a premium appearance, and the Gold tier incorporates a keyline pattern in gold with sand accents, evoking a sense of luxury.

Don'ts

Don't stretch the patterns.

Don't recolor the patterns.

Don't use color block patterns for Silver and Gold tiers.

Composition

Layout and margins

It is important to set up all of our layouts in a way that allow all of our key elements space to breath and not become too cluttered.

Our layouts follow a simple grid in multiples of 6. This page shows examples of which grid must be used for standard sizes. Use the closest format to your target size and adjust them accordingly.

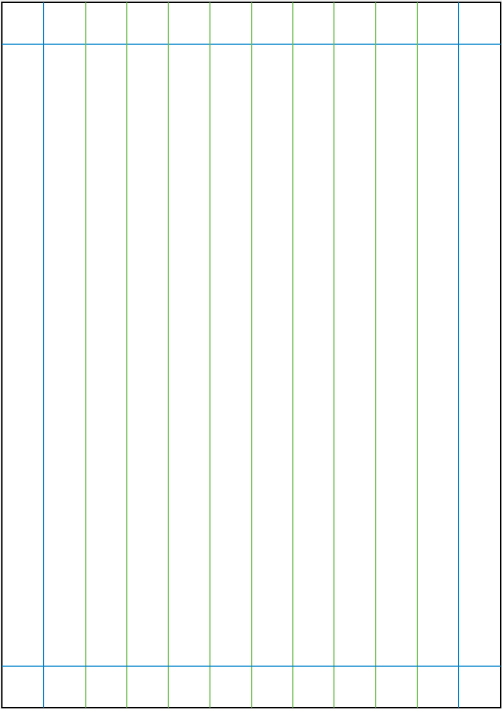

Margins
To position the elements in a balanced space, the margins are created accordingly.

For portrait formats, the top and bottom margins are equal to height /40, while left and right margins are equal to width /25.

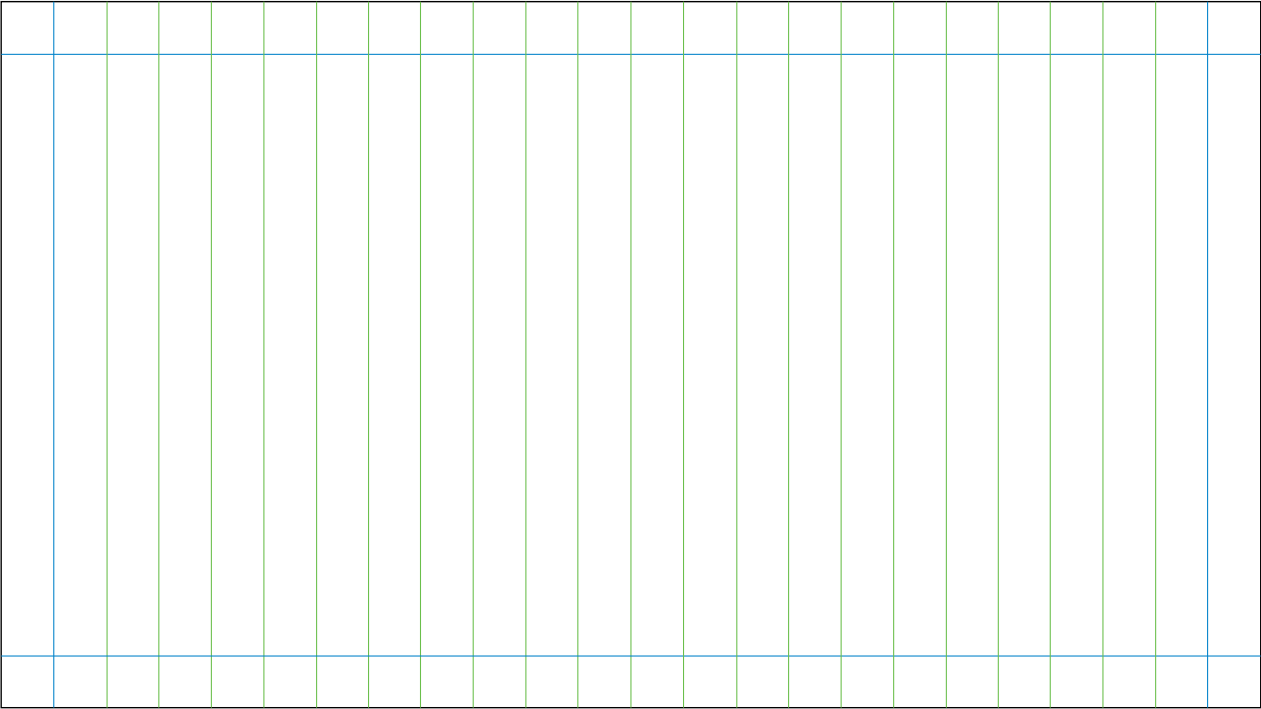

For landscape formats, the top and bottom margins are equal to height /25, while left and right margins are equal to width /40.

If space is limited, follow the minimum clear space area for the logo.

Layout and margins

Our logo must always be applied in a way that best represents the brand in any layout and format.

Sizing

Our logos are always sized using the Saudia Insignia and is always proportional to the column width.

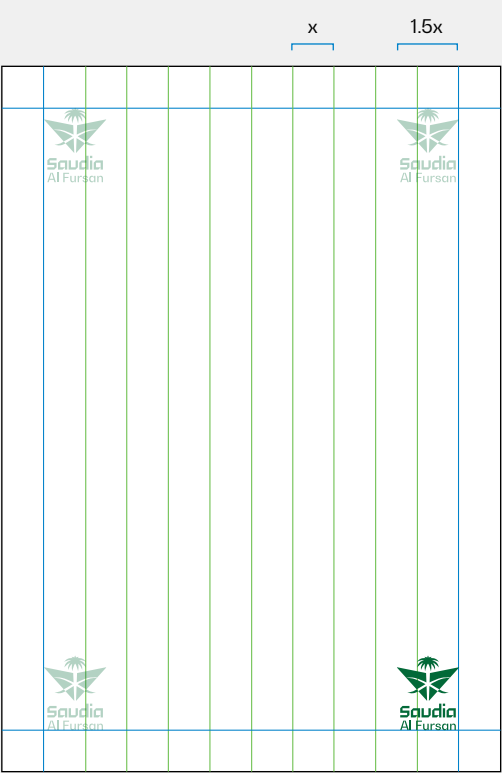

In the examples shown here, the width of the Saudia Insignia is equal to the width of 1.5 columns, for both portrait and landscape.

Positioning

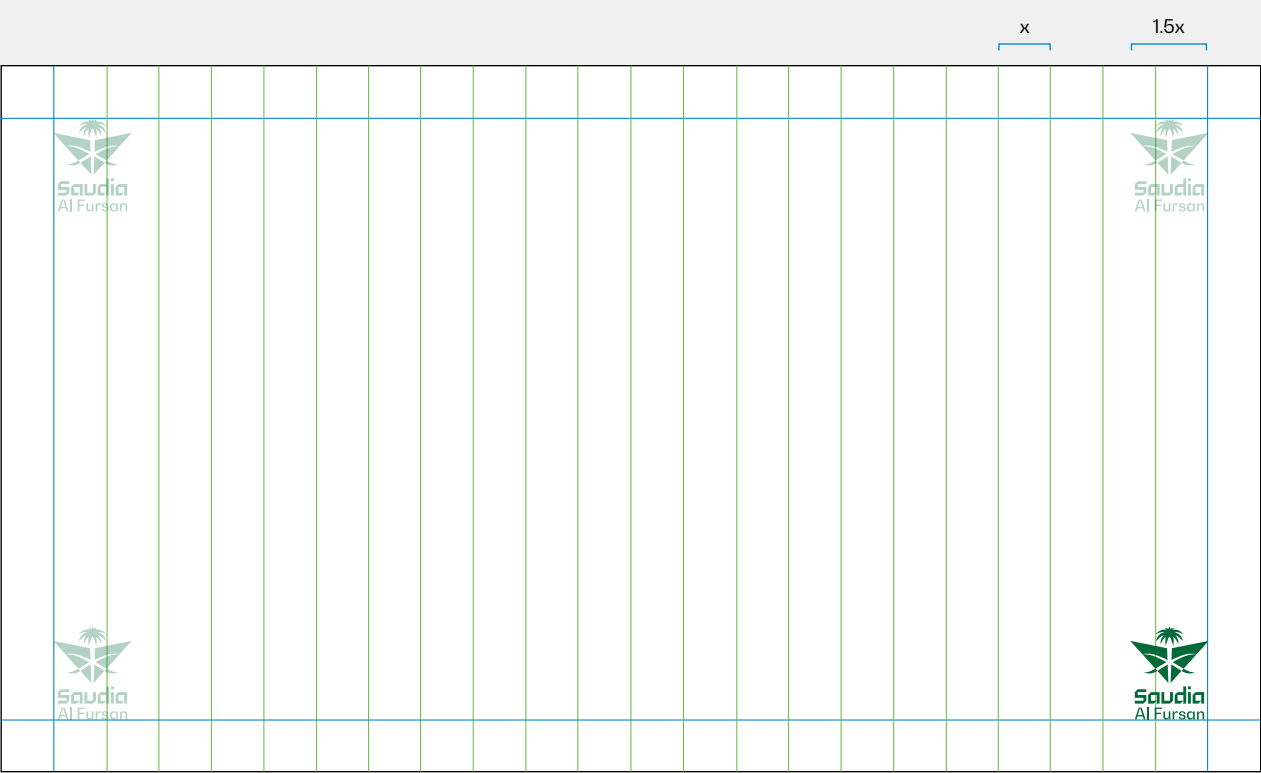

The logo should always occupy one of the corners. The corner should be the one that best works for the specific touchpoint.

These schematics show some of the positions it could be applied to.

Al Fursan layout

Our layouts are composed of several key elements.

Logo
Our logo sits at the edge of the layout used to open or sign off the communications. Legibility must be always ensured.

Photography
Our photography focuses on depicting individuals and their personal journey with all the benefits of being a member of Al Fursan.

Graphic asset
The pattern is used to fill the white space between the two images, adding visual interest and cohesion to the overall design.

Messaging
Our messaging sits on the clear space of our layouts. The copy needs to follow the principles for typography. Always use Saudia Sans for both headline and body copy.

The following pages show examples on composing these elements.

How to build the layout

Step 1: Logo
We apply a 12-column grid system across our canvas. The width of the Saudia logo depends on the Insignia which should never be smaller than the width of 1.5 columns, apart from exceptional circumstances such as small digital banners. We position the logo in one of our four corners.

Step 2: Image
Photography should be boxed with plenty of white space in between. The image should occupy 2/3 of the size of the page. An extension of the image appears on the opposite corner of the layout. For this part, we use the clear space of the photography.

Step 3: Pattern
Use the relevant pattern and place it behind the logo.

Step 4: Copy
Lastly, add the headline and body copy in Saudia Sans Regular, and CTA and URL in Saudia Sans Bold. The alignment is always left. Type setting must adhere type rules.

How to build the layout: tier system

Step 1: Logo
We apply a 12-column grid system across our canvas. The width of the Saudia logo depends on the Insignia which should never be smaller than the width of 1.5 columns, apart from exceptional circumstances such as small digital banners. We position the logo in one of our four corners.

Step 2: Image
Photography should be boxed with plenty of white space around it. The image should occupy 2/3 of the size of the page.

Step 3: Pattern
By applying the corresponding tier pattern, one tile is strategically positioned over the image while the second tile is placed on the adjacent white space, resulting in an invisible frame that encapsulates the image, adding a touch of visual depth and enhancing the overall aesthetic appeal.

Step 4: Copy
Lastly, add the headline and body copy in Saudia Sans Regular, and CTA and URL in Saudia Sans Bold. The alignment is always left. Type setting must adhere type rules.

Don'ts

Don't use the pattern as a background for copy.

Don't use the tiers' patterns with Al Fursan layout.

Don't change the colors of the pattern.

Don't place the pattern over the image.

Credit Card

The Al Fursan credit card incorporates certain elements that were adapted to differentiate it from the membership cards.

The white 3D pattern incorporated in the background of the card creates a premium aesthetic, ensuring clear readability of various levels of information and logos, while maintaining a distinct design separate from the Al Fursan membership cards.

The credit card logo lock-up was created with a singular purpose in mind: to highlight the exclusive opportunity of earning Al Fursan points every time customers make a purchase with this card.

The Saudia Al Fursan credit card logo lock-up is exclusively intended for use on the credit card and should not be utilized elsewhere.
